

I would like to urge you not to give low power FM stations priority over current FM translator services. The only music station that our family listens to is K-LOVE which uses FM translator services in many parts of the country. K-LOVE is a tremendous source of encouragement and information to our family. We particularly appreciate the fact that K-LOVE is a national broadcaster keeping us in touch with things of national and world significance as well as items of local interest. We would hate to lose the opportunity to listen to K-LOVE daily as we currently do. Thank you for taking the time to read and consider my viewpoint on this matter. Sincerely, Colleen Gruver
